CHANGING PERSPECTIVES

Exhibition tours with experts offer fresh takes and new perspectives. On selected Sundays at 3pm.

BLACK TRACES

A Black individual in a film or on a poster is often forced into a specific role, whether as an invisible supporting spirit or a visible figure of evil. Such roles are constructed by society. Yet films can also be empowering.

↳ WITH FILM SCHOLAR STANLEY SILEWU

SUN 26 NOV '23 | SUN 21 JAN '24, 3PM

QUEER IDENTITIES IN FILMS AND POSTERS

In 1975, “The Rocky Horror Picture Show” openly and creatively celebrated queer identities. Other important milestones in queer culture include Asta Nielsen playing Hamlet and the films of Rosa von Praunheim. This event looks at the current situation and why it is important to consider queer discourse in film posters, too.

↳ WITH LEA GRONENBERG, AUTHOR AT FILMLÖWIN MAGAZINE

BRAIN TEASER

QUIZ NIGHT

During this quiz night, participants compete in small teams of 2 to 5. The four rounds focus on everyday knowledge, movie facts, and film music. This entertaining evening is for everyone, not just film buffs. And of course, there are prizes. A prior visit to THE BIG SCREEN exhibition is not necessary – but will certainly help.

SYMPOSIUM

FILM POSTERS – IMAGES OF POWER?

Film poster imagery often reveals structures that need to be questioned: stereotypes, ideologies, power dynamics. As mass media, films and film posters can reinforce prejudices and ways of thinking. In around twenty short talks, experts will critically examine film posters from a contemporary perspective.
