Sam Bardaouil and Till Fellrath present the annual program 2024
Press conference: Wednesday, 27 September 2023, 11 am

We cordially invite you to the press conference for the annual program 2024 at Hamburger Bahnhof on Wednesday, 27 September 2023, at 11 am.

The directors are presenting their second annual program: which artists will be exhibited and what accents will be set? What program will be shown in the Rieckhallen and the Kleihueshalle? And which new formats continue the museum's exchange with the city and its artists?

In November 2022, the Hamburger Bahnhof and Rieckhallen buildings were permanently secured for the museum through public purchase. At the same time, directors Sam Bardaouil and Till Fellrath fundamentally repositioned the National Gallery of Contemporary Art with their first annual program.

The new presentation of the collection shows a panorama of Berlin's art scene from reunification in 1989 to the present day, both inside the museum as well as in the outdoor areas. In the admission free Forum Hamburger Bahnhof, the history of the location and the institution can be discovered in an interactive presentation. Numerous solo exhibitions showed artistic positions from all over the world and complemented the permanent presentations. New event formats such as the admission-free Open House days in June or the open-air DJ series Berlin Beats anchored the Hamburger Bahnhof as a museum for everyone in the heart of Berlin.

The press conference will be attended by:

Sam Bardaouil

Director of Hamburger Bahnhof – Nationalgalerie der Gegenwart

Till Fellrath

Director of Hamburger Bahnhof – Nationalgalerie der Gegenwart

We are looking forward to your attendance. Please obtain an accreditation by sending an email by Tuesday, 26 September 2023 to:
